HIGH SCHOOL LOST TO CAMBRIDGE TEAM

The Mt. Vernon high school basketball team was defeated by Cambridge on the Cambridge high school floor Saturday evening, the score being 56 to 19.

Those who saw this game attribute the loss largely to the fact that Smith was not present, and that it was Cunningham's first whole game for weeks.

Riley of Cambridge scored 26 points in the game, making most of them from the center start. Captain Rawlins came back strong after his long absence from the game, and was able to score 15 points in this contest.

The contest was fast, hard, and full of the old fight stuff, Cambridge working to keep up her fine record of only one defeat on the home floor, and that by Marietta a year or two ago, and the Mt. Vernon fellows striving to achieve their usual victory. Cambridge has played 15 games on her home floor and lost but the one game.

Another feature of the game that added to the difficulties of the Mt. Vernon lads was the large floor of the Cambridge gymnasium. This made the pass-work of the local team assume new proportions, and hence they had much trouble in keeping the ball in their control.

The line-up follows:
Mt. Vernon Cambridge
Rawlins L.F. Schultz
Clyde McBroom R.F. Ward
Cunningham C. Riley
Hunt R.G. Lewis
Corcoran L.G. Lawyer
Substitutions—Hunt for Cunningham, Cunningham for Hunt and McBroom for Corcoran.

SOLDIER BILLS STILL PENDING IN HOUSE NOW

Main Effort Of Legion Will Be For $50 Bond Measure For Men

AUXILIARY FOR WOMEN POSSIBLE

Message of the National Commander Is Sent To All The Posts

American Legion leaders have decided not to sit back and wait longer for the legislative leaders to act upon the soldier legislation that is now before both houses of congress, according to the latest reports from Washington. They are going to Washington within the next week and inaugurate some action that will take a few of these bills out of committee and place them before the congressmen for their vote.

The legion has become convinced that there is a disposition in congress to dodge the necessity of action upon the soldier measure. Many representatives do not like the idea of going on record at this time—it is too near election.

At the present time, there are more than 50 measures in the interests of soldiers pending, held up in committees. The only legislation of consequence that has been passed has been the Sweet bill which provides for increasing compensation to disabled soldiers up to as high as $100 per month.

The last report, concerning the legion activity is that the May effort of the legion will be in behalf of the "adjustment" bond plan, a proposal that each soldier and sailor be given a $50 bond for each month of service. The basis for this measure is given by its supporters to be based on the difference in earnings of the average man who stayed at home and the average earnings of the man who went to the front. The increase in the savings of the man who stayed at home is estimated at $400. The average length of service per man is eight months. An award of a $50 bond for each month of service would give the soldier and sailor the approximate amount of the savings made by the man who stayed at home over the man who went to the front. This bill is worth the attention of every chapter of the legion.

Auxiliary Units of Legion

Women are coming into the legion movement and organization. Requirements for membership in the women's auxiliaries as fixed by the legion convention are that members must be the wives, mothers, daughters or sisters of legion members, or men killed in the service, or who died prior to Nov. 11, 1920.

The women folk of any legion post may organize and secure a temporary charter. All that is necessary is to secure the approval of the local post. The post will pass the word to the department commander, and he will have the temporary charter issued by national headquarters. The auxiliaries take the title of "Women's Auxiliary Unit of — Post."

Ohio's Rank in Legion

Ohio stands sixth in the list of states where there are legion chapters. The state has now 350 posts. New York leads the list with 777. The last post in Ohio was established at Bedford, just out of Cleveland, but more are on the way.

Rank No Recognition
National Commander Franklin D. Oiler has forwarded to the state adjutants for transmission to the posts the following statement:

"No request should be made of any applicant for membership in the legion concerning his previous rank while in the service, either personally or by any information asked for on any forms used by post or department headquarters. Any forms now in use which contain questions bearing upon this subject should be discontinued at once."

Work Going On

Many of the posts over the state are organizing bands for pleasure and service the coming summer and summers.

Special meetings are being held in some posts for the discussion of the soldiers' measures and other measures of governmental import, such as taxation. Leading authorities are being engaged to make the addresses and they are responding to the man.

In several places posts are commencing the study of their community surroundings and its problems.

In all places the organizations are drawing the attention of all the live and wide-awake people.

TWO SERVICES AT THE M. P. CHURCH

At the Methodist Protestant church on North Mulberry street, Miss Banning, the evangelist, preached two very interesting and instructive sermons on Sunday. At 11 a. m. she explained the "Higher Life" or the doctrine and experience of holiness. All who heard it felt that it was a very able and convincing presentation of that subject. At 7:30 p. m. the subject was sin and its consequences, taken from the text, "Be sure your sin will find you out." The message was plain and searching. Miss Banning believes in calling things by their right names and she preaches what she believes.

In the morning service several persons expressed their desire for the higher life, but no altar service was held. In the evening 12 persons answered the call and professed conversion. The number of professions thus far in the meetings is 59.

The singing is timely and helpful and prepares the way for the preaching. In the morning Miss McClellan sang with good effect the hymn, "Open Our Eyes that We May See." In the evening Miss Banning and Miss McClellan sang "Where Will You Be When the Judgment Comes?" It helped to make it a time of heart-searching.

Day meetings will be held this week, starting on Tuesday at 2 p. m.

The song service tonight will begin at 7:30, and a cordial invitation is extended.
